

6516208460.txt

I am a trucker who pulls a tanker and often hauls hazmat. My terminal is near Chicago. Because of the mess the interstate 80/94 is I start checking the traffic before I get to Indianapolis, In. Because of the loads I sometimes haul avoiding traffic problems is a matter of public safety. I can not get the information I need to make informed decisions as to route from AM/FM, I need the information at least 150 miles before time.

I also don't think that it is governments job to impose limitations on free enterprise. XM radio provides a service that I pay for. It is up to AM/FM to compete it is not up to the government to protect them. If they were serving the needs of listeners XM would not be able to exist it is clear that they do not serve the listeners. Government should not reward them for providing bad service.

Ray Lawson